Organization to Promote Company's 5G mmWave Technology in Japan

IRVINE, Calif., Jun. 12, 2021 — Mobix Labs Inc., a fabless RF (radio frequency) component company focused on next-generation wireless technologies, today announced that it has been approved for the Invest Japan Support Program offered by the Japan External Trade Organization (JETRO), a government-related organization that helps foreign businesses expand into Japan.

This approval allows Mobix Labs to leverage JETRO's resources to set up an office in Japan in the future and forge relationships with prospective partners and investors in Japan for Mobix Labs' 5G mmWave technology.

"We are extremely excited to be working with JETRO given their long history of successfully helping companies like us grow their reach in the Japanese market," said Fabian Battaglia, CEO of Mobix Labs. "There is enormous opportunity for us to deliver our mmWave beamforming technology in Japan while the country continues to invest heavily in its infrastructure to build out its 5G networks."

Mobix Labs' fully scalable True5G™ solution provides unprecedented levels of integration and performance across a wide variety of customer platforms, including small cells and base stations, industrial IoT and medical devices, and consumer products and handsets. The company's CMOS-based technology includes a portfolio of single SKU devices that offer significant advantages in performance, efficiency, cost, size, and time to market.
