Mobix Labs Accelerates National Security Push With Board-Approved Expansion Targeting Critical Resources, Defense, Energy and Digital Infrastructure

July 21, 2026

IRVINE, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jul. 21, 2026-- Mobix Labs, Inc. (Nasdaq: MOBX), a provider of advanced connectivity solutions for defense, aerospace, and other high-reliability markets, today announced that its Board of Directors has unanimously approved the launch of a National Security Matters (NSM) Initiative, significantly broadening its business scope and long-term growth potential through an expanded focus on businesses advancing U.S. national security strategic priorities.

Today's  U.S. national security priorities encompasses defense capabilities, critical resources, infrastructure, industrial capacity, and digital technologies. These mission-critical capabilities underpin America's long-term security, economic resilience, technology leadership, and global competitiveness.

Strategic Growth Pillars

Mobix Lab's NSM Initiative establishes a disciplined growth framework for evaluating acquisitions, strategic investments, partnerships, and organic growth opportunities across four strategic pillars:

- Critical Resources & Advanced Materials,
- Defense, Aerospace & Autonomous Systems,
- Energy, Water & Critical Infrastructure, and
- Digital Infrastructure & Strategic Technologies

These pillars align with enduring U.S. priorities including national defense, energy independence, resilient infrastructure, and domestic industrial onshoring.

The NSM Initiative builds upon the previously announced, proposed acquisition of Special Project Delivery, Inc. ("SPD") and is being facilitated through its relationship with SPD and its principals.

National Security Matters

Mobix Labs believes that governments and private industry are making generational investments to secure domestic supply chains, expand strategic manufacturing capabilities, and strengthen critical infrastructure. Mobix is now working to build a diversified strategic industries platform serving these long-term priorities.

"The Board believes national security and economic security have become inseparable," said Mobix Labs Chairman, Jimmy Peterson. "Our NSM Initiative reflects a long-term vision to build businesses that strengthen America's strategic capabilities. We believe the opportunities extending from national defense to energy, infrastructure and domestic industrial capacity represent some of the most compelling and durable investment themes of our times."

Phil Sansone, Mobix Labs CEO, added, "Mobix has established a strong foundation serving defense and other mission-critical markets. Our expanded strategy allows us to pursue an expand range of opportunities across strategic industries, while remaining disciplined in capital allocation and focused on building long-term shareholder value. Whether through critical resources, autonomous systems, resilient infrastructure, or digital platforms, we intend to invest in businesses that matter to the nation's future."
